The City of San Diego Planning Commission and Park and Recreation Board will hold a joint public workshop to discuss criteria, methodologies and approaches for implementation of the draft Park Equivalencies policies proposed in the draft General Plan Update Recreation Element. The draft policies address the equitable provision, distribution of, and access to public park and recreation facilities citywide, and recommend flexibility in applying population-based park guidelines. Equivalencies criteria will be addressed in a future interim Council Policy, as recommended in the draft Recreation Element, and ultimately will be incorporated into the future Parks Master Plan. This is a workshop and no actions will be taken to recommend adoption or denial of the draft Equivalencies policies or the draft Recreation Element.
